From the Interim President/CEO

The end of one year and the beginning of another always seems to call for a time of reflection as well as planning. Reflecting on the year before and assessing how it went, and then time planning with hopes of growing, improving, learning, and evolving even further. A new year always feels like a clean slate to either start anew, or at least add a new page to prior successes.

Here at the Chamber, we're not only in a time of reflection and planning, but we're also in a time of transition. The changing of the year isn't the only change that is happening around here as our Board begins the process of searching for our new CEO/President.

We enter into the new year facing exciting possibilities, but also some uncertainty and the potential for more change.

I'm excited to be at the helm as we go through this process. The community of Salina is seeing extraordinary growth, and our business community especially is leading the way in innovation, progress, and creativity. Our hospitality, restaurant, and retail industries are beginning to creep out from under the cloud of COVID and have proven their resiliency and tenacity. Our educational institutions continue to see record enrollment numbers, and our healthcare facilities continue to provide state-of-the-art care. Manufacturing continues to grow as an industry, and we can't build houses fast enough for incoming jobs and workforce. Salina has seen over $1 billion in both public and private investment in the last five years, and that number only continues to grow with new projects and expansions in the pipeline.

All of this growth does not come without its challenges however, and we at the Chamber continue to be hyper focused on workforce development, entrepreneurial support, convention and visitors' activity, and legislative advocacy. The Imagine Salina campaign is winding down in its final year of existence, with bigger and better plans for Love Salina and all of the potential it brings. Project OPEN is providing free business training classes and access to capital to more aspiring entrepreneurs than it ever has before. Visit Salina is looking to create new and improved collateral for recruiting conventions and sporting events. And as you'll read in this issue's cover story, our legislative work is ramping up in a big way as we partner with the City, County, Airport Authority, Salina Community Economic Development Organization and KSU-Salina to invest in governmental affairs efforts.

Our mission is to advocate and elevate our members' economic prosperity and to be the catalyst for our community's future. This includes supporting commerce in the community, but also championing for affordable housing and childcare, access to mental health resources, and development of important community amenities and social infrastructure. We hope our membership can reflect on our successes in these areas, and is planning to join us as we go ahead in our mission.

We thank you for your membership and wish you a Happy New Year!

Chamber and Local Partners Develop 2023 Legislative Agenda

Every year, the Salina Area Chamber of Commerce comes together with our community partners that include local government bodies, economic development organizations, educational institutions, and community health stakeholders to develop a regional legislative agenda to present to both federal and state elected officials. For many years now, this process—and the document produced—have been very beneficial. But questions have been raised recently about if it continues to be effective.

Last spring, Salina made incredible headway during the state legislative session with a $25 million grant for housing as the result. The Chamber, along with our local partners, began to wonder what might be accomplished if we were to focus more effort and weight toward legislative affairs. Salina has the assets and economic development to be a major player in the allocation of state and federal dollars, but just hasn't had the capacity to spend the time and energy needed in Topeka or Washington D.C.

This year it was decided that the Salina Area Chamber of Commerce would join the City of Salina, Saline County, the Salina Airport Authority, the Salina Community Economic Development Organization and Kansas State University-Salina, by investing in a government affairs consultant. This group has contracted with Eric Sexton from Foulston Siefkin LLP in Wichita to help in communicating both funding and policy requests to state and federal representatives. Sexton is an experienced governmental affairs leader who spent 18 years on Wichita State University's governmental relations team, most recently as executive director of governmental relations. During his tenure in that role, WSU ranked 15th in the country for earning directed federal appropriations for important programs.

"We at Foulston Siefkin LLP are proud to become a partner with the Salina Area Chamber of Commerce and the Salina area," Sexton said, "I personally have watched from afar the progress and growth of this community and am excited to be engaged and part of our continuing success at the state and federal level."

One of the major objectives in producing the 2023 legislative agenda was to prioritize what those funding and policy requests would be. The group decided on eight priorities that would guide the process, that included the hot button issues of workforce development, housing affordability, and childcare access.

From these priorities stem funding requests that will provide housing infrastructure, and create training and job opportunities, as well as policy requests that focus on education, housing, childcare, and access to mental health care and resources.

"Labor force is at the top of everyone's mind right now, including the County as we are looking to staff our new jail facility," Phillip Smith-Hanes, Saline County Administrator said, "Access to housing, childcare and mental health care are fundamental pieces of workforce development as we work to put that puzzle together."

A final copy of the legislative agenda will be available on the Salina Area Chamber of Commerce website, or you can receive one by contacting Renee Duxler at rduxler@salinakansas.org or 785-827-9301.

The 2023 Legislative Policy Agenda focuses on eight priorities for regional growth, economic development, community health, and overall quality of life for Salina and the area.

Drive regional success & economic development

Strengthen a skilled workforce

Establish affordable, quality housing

Fortify transportation initiatives

Invest in education

Enhance quality of life & community amenities

Ensure affordable healthcare & mental health resources

Secure access to early childhood programming and childcare

In The News

Sunflower Bank and First National 1870 announce a total donation of $101,895 to schools that participated in the ABC Program for Education's 2021-2022 school year campaign, which includes $15,636 received by schools in Salina. Sunflower Bank originated the program in 2001, and since then has contributed over $1.6 million to support kindergarten through 12th grade education in the communities it serves. Donations were distributed throughout October 2022 by local branch teams.

The ABC Program is funded in part based on customer debit card transactions and new accounts opened. Sunflower Bank and First National 1870 customers have the opportunity to select an ABC Program-registered school to support with each qualifying debit card purchase during the campaign. The standard school donation per transaction is $0.02.* This year for the first time, for every new Elevation Checking account opened 11/15/2022-8/31/2023, $5.00 will be donated to an ABC Program-registered school chosen by the account owner. For more information, go to Sunflowerbank.com/abc or contact your Sunflower Bank branch.

The Garage, 134 S. Fourth Street, has been honored for their work to keep children safe, with an Outstanding Coalition Organization award from Safe Kids Kansas. Many of their hands-on exhibits are dedicated to safety, including the Seatbelt Convincer that teaches the importance of wearing a 3-point seatbelt. They offer driving simulators as well, which have more than 900 hours on them since the museum's opening in early February and their Turbo Trivia Tower includes questions based on the Kansas Learner's Permit Test. The award was presented at an event in Topeka, and celebrated back at the museum by museum staff and board members (right photo). Congratulations to The Garage! Bill Burke Park & BFRA Update

by SPR Recreation Superintendent, Travis Scheele

Nemaha Sports Construction Company and Schwab Eaton Architects are teaming up and moving forward with the Bill Burke Baseball and Softball Turf Renovation Project. They have implemented a phased approach starting with four fields (2, 4, 5 & 6) to eliminate the possibility of all eight fields not being available due to inclement winter weather.

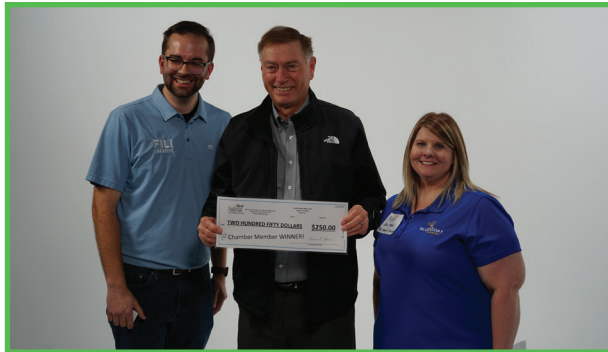

Bill Burke restrooms and concessions are also being worked on simultaneously, but by separate City staff. The concession renovation is already 80% complete with umpire changing area included. New restrooms will be implemented by Fields 7 & 8 and by the concessions stand. The restrooms by Field 3 will also be renovated.

At Berkley Family Recreation Area (BFRA), Schwab Eaton is generating a design to improve the drainage issue.

VISIT SALINA 2022

MILITARY & AVIATION EVENTS

Salina is so fortunate to have the incredible facilities at the Salina Airport Authority (SAA), the Smoky Hills ANG Weapons Range and Crisis City. Military and aviation events added to a successful year in 2022. Visit Salina is honored to work with these groups to assist in identifying event conflicts, coordinate group room blocks at hotels and be the general liaison to community resources. SAA estimates that 12 Military & Aviation events in 2022 involved 2,617 personnel over 205 event days and created $7.2 million in estimated expenditures. Jaded Thunder always generates significant room nights for our hotels, and lots of business across town. The exercise was a success for Salina in 2022. The International Aerobatic Competition (IAC) also returned in 2022, with a commitment to return in 2023.

SPECIAL EVENTS & AG EVENTS

The popularity of Salina for car enthusiasts continues to bring events throughout the year. The Kustom Kemps of America (KKOA) again cruised into Salina in July, bringing some of the most beautiful autos, and most enthusiastic fans we see each year, and 2022 was another successful year.

In 2022, Visit Salina worked with two new auto clubs - the Crown Vic Association and National Studebakers.

The Studebakers Meet chose to coincide with the Smoky Hill Museum Street Fair, bringing a unique addition to their annual parade. The Garage has been a great location for these types of events, and others.

The Gelbvieh Cattle (Junior) Show was a big addition to the Ag related events held at the Saline County Livestock & Expo Center (SCLEC) in 2022. The event brought participants and their families to Salina from across the nation for up to seven days.

The move from Tony's Pizza Events Center (TPEC) to the 4-H Building at SCLEC with the Kansas State Square Dancers Association helped to insure many more years for this group to call Salina home.

A BIG win was the successful negotiation of a five-year contract with the Kansas Horse Council to bring Equifest of Kansas to Salina, 2023 through 2027. Salina is proud to assist and recognize its impact, bringing participants, spectators and vendors from across the nation. Looking forward to this multi day/evening event in March for each of the next five years. (See article to the right.)
